Carson and Quilter Injured; Sheehan Returns to Tackle

Test for Breneman's Men Should be Provided by Visitors

PLAY AT 3:30 O'CLOCK

Lee Stadium Scene of Opening of Crimson and Cream Schedule

Probable Lineup of Tulsa Today

L. E. Brockman, L. T. McCarty, L. G. Conway, L. Brownfield, R. G. Stone, R. T. Shochan, R. E. Heling, R. H. Morgan, L. H. H. Myers, R. H. H. Hughes, P. H. Mike Ledford.

Facing their first hard test of the season, Coach A. L. Breneman's Tulsa high school football team today meets the Bartlesville school of Bartlesville at Lee stadium at 3:30 o'clock. Tulsa last week defeated Sand Springs but today's game should offer the first real chance for the crimson and cream to show.

This is Bartlesville's first game of the season and consequently no dope is available on them. They usually develop fast, fighting teams and will probably force Breneman's men to give their best.

Carson, end and Quilter, guard, will not start today's game because of injuries. Sheehan, who was out of last week's game because of injuries, is in condition to resume his place at tackle. Other men on the first squad are: Murrell, half-back and guard; Galt, half-back and guard; Galt, half-back and guard.

Officials for today's game: Referee, Culler (Kansas State Daily World); umpire, Bailey (Tulsa Daily World); head line-man, H. Welches (Tulsa).

Kleck Kayoes Sheehan In Whirlwind Battle

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 7.—Billy Kleck, Fort Worth, knocked out Danny Sheehan of Kansas City here tonight in the sixth round of a scheduled 15-round bout.

In the third round Sheehan, after knocking Kleck down three times, knocked him through the ropes. Kleck crawled back and waded into the fight again. His second bid to quit him off Sheehan after the going bang. In the sixth Kleck hit Sheehan so hard he had to be carried to his dressing room. The men are lightweights.

KENDALL-AGGIES READY FOR PLAY

Tiger Elevens Conclude Work for Saturday's Game

One more brief but snappy work-out, an extensive chalk talk, and the Kendall college football squad will today finish training for the clash tomorrow with the Oklahoma Aggies at McNulty park. This is the first important game in the southwest this season and will be watched with great interest by grid followers in this section. In Oklahoma especially, as both elevens are leading contenders for the state collegiate title.

Coach Schmidt and McIlveney yesterday sent the squad through another three hours of hard work including scrimmages. Maudin and Snyder, guards, showed up especially well. Her Chiswell continues to run good at an end position and is a likely starter Saturday. Chadwell will probably be used to punt and position himself to trouble the Kendall mentors. In addition to Chadwell, Jones, O. Williams and Keck are running at the flank positions.

AGGIES WORK HARD FOR KENDALL GAME

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 7.—Head Coach Jim Pickett and Assistant Coach Roy Kenny drove the Oklahoma Aggie football eleven through their last hard workout today in preparation for their game Saturday with Kendall college at Tulsa. The farmers will enter the game with the Tulsa collegians in good condition with the exception of bruises and bumps incidental to a football player.

The same Aggie lineup which played against Southwestern Saturday will start against Kendall. The farmers will enter the game with the Tulsa collegians in good condition with the exception of bruises and bumps incidental to a football player.

Sand Springs Eleven to Battle Glen Pool Grid Athletes Today

SHERROD SMITH IN HALL OF FAME

any world series in many years. Old time players and followers were unanimous in this opinion after the final out had been made. The entire contest, although marked by two errors, evenly divided, fairly scintillated with brilliant individual and commendable defensive plays which brought the thousands of spectators to their feet repeatedly.

It was the first contest to be played in real baseball weather and the spectators showed the effects of the more suitable setting. Not a cloud obscured the sun and only a lazy breeze disturbed the Indian summer haze. The overcasts which surrounded themselves during the first two games were discarded, while occasional purchasers of peanuts and hot apples added a true baseball touch to the picture. There was, however, little change in the collective attitude of the enthusiasts, so far as "rooting" was concerned. Speaker was given the greatest applause of any individual player. Members of both teams came in for repeated cheers following fine plays, but the "rooting" which had made other series famous, was missing, notwithstanding the home club was winning.

Many Scintillating Plays. The outburst of applause which greeted the rapidly succeeding feats of one, and then the other team, was spontaneous and impartial. Partisanship, except in a few individual cases, was noticeably absent. It may be due to the fact that these thrilling plays came so rapidly that the Brooklyn partisans never had time to set themselves for a general outburst.

Speaker Still Confident. The outcome of the third game was good for two bashes, but Wheat let the ball go through him and it rolled to the far corner of the lot. Speaker continued around the bases was good for two bashes, but Wheat made no effort to throw the ball home.

How Indian Pitchers Worked. The pitching analysis of the Cleveland boxmen showed that nearly half of the 26 balls thrown by Caldwell in the 1-3 inning he performed were wide of the plate. The 2 went as strikes, 4 as foul strikes and 2 were grounders, one of which was fouled after the other two were hits that sent in the two runs for Brooklyn.

Mills pitched creditably in his 8-2-5 innings. Although his ball total of 98 was almost equal to that of Smith for 9 innings, he held Brooklyn to 3 hits and no runs. He sent across 19 strikes and received credit for 14 on fouls. Four fouls came after the second strike. The Cleveland left-hander started well, throwing 7 balls in the fractional inning and 3 in the second. After that his total was never less than 11, and in the seventh he pitched 23 times, 12 of which were wide of the plate. This, in his one inning, had 2 balls, 2 strikes, 3 foul strikes and 2 plain fouls.

Eight Brooklyn men went out on flies and 10 on grounders, not including the ball Sevell erred on. The ball total for the three Indian pitchers was to and the strike total, half that number. Brooklyn batters fouled off 21 offerings for strikes.

Attendance Best Yet. The almost summer-like weather brought out the largest attendance of the series to date. According to the official figures of the national commission, 25,088 spectators paid admission.

Their collective contribution to the box office was $1,298. This made the total receipts for the first three games $23,511, of which the national commission received $23,511; the players paid $127,715.94 and the club owners $35,142.96.

"THAT LITTLE GAME"

line outburst of concerted home team "rooting."

The baseball fireworks opened in the second when Right Fielder Griffith made a great running catch off Joe Wood's bat that robbed the Cleveland outfielder of a double. A moment later Konetchy knocked down Sevell's blazing smash and retired him at first with a snap throw to Smith.

Both players were required to doff their caps repeatedly as they came to the bench. In the third, Konetchy and Kilduff figured in another star play. O'Neill smashes a fly into the hands of the "Robber" first sacker, but the ball was deflected by Konetchy's efforts to stop it, and it flew to Kilduff who scooped it up and flung it back to Smith, who had rushed over to cover the bag.

Again in the fifth session, the Brooklyn infield figured in a fast double play. Olson knocked down Malt's wicked drive and, recovering his balance with an effort, tossed the ball to Kilduff, forcing O'Neill at second, whereupon Kilduff whirled and nailed Malt at first.

Brilliant Play Starts Rally. Speaker's players left themselves out in the sixth, when two leads in leading off the "Robber" first sacker, but the ball was deflected by Konetchy's efforts to stop it, and it flew to Kilduff who scooped it up and flung it back to Smith, who had rushed over to cover the bag.

PHILLIPS-INDIANS TO CLASH TODAY

Haymakers and Haskell to Battle on Enid Gridiron

ENID, Oct. 7.—With the regular line-up, which has almost fully recovered from the bruises and sprains received in the game last Friday with Northwestern normal, the Phillips university eleven will meet the fast Haskell Indian team here Friday afternoon.

The Haymakers are expecting one of the best games of the season and Coach Maudibates is putting his squad through stiff workouts in all departments of the game preparation to meet the Redskins. Phillips has won both of the games played this season. Southwestern normal, Weatherford, lost the first game here by a score of 27 to 0. The faster Northwestern normal squad of Alva, across the third touchdown scored on Phillips in two years in the game of last Friday but was defeated by a score of 27 to 7.

He declared he could beat Loughlin "in two weeks."

Loughlin won nine rounds, the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth by decisive margins and the third and eleventh by shades. Rostan had margins in the first and twelfth. The second was even.

Tommy Alba of Akron, Ohio, shaded Red Byrd in the eight-round semi-windup. It was Alba's first professional bout and he made a splendid impression. He sent Byrd to the floor in the second round twice, for the count of two and eight, and had the veteran Okmulgee boxer in a bad way. Byrd staged a comeback in the latter rounds, but Alba's cardiovascular margin was too great to overcome.

Glen Porter of Tulsa took the count after one minute and 35 seconds in the ring in his scheduled six-round prelim with Kid Johnson of Rochester, N. Y.

"Ged" Gahan of Tulsa refereed the main event and semi-wind-up and his work, as usual, was good.

EYE GLASSES

New "ZLYRIM" Fingertip Eyeglasses or Spectacles. Very latest style—with Spherical Lenses, complete. Your choice, distance or reading, examination included, $6.50

The extremely low prices we charge for eyeglasses is not the only reason why you should buy here. You should also consider the quality of the goods, the expert examination Dr. Allison makes of your eyes, and the exactness with which the glasses are fitted.

When we say we give you for $6.50 a pair of glasses for which others charge $12, we do not pretend to lose money, but merely that we cut our profit to a minimum. This offer is backed by our absolute guarantee, and Dr. Allison has fitted thousands of customers who will testify to their good quality.

Dr. Allison originated the idea of selling $12 glasses at these low prices in Tulsa, since then other houses have made a similar offer. However, you should consider well the reputation of the firm you patronize.

Our Invisible Bifocals are the modern glasses for near and far vision. They enable the wearer to see near and distant objects with equal clearness, and end the annoying necessity of peering over glasses or changing from one pair to another.
